THE SENIOR CLASS

We, the members of the first senior class of this decade, have finally arrived at the goal which we have been striving to attain for four long years. They have been eventful years and full of happiness, as well as work and responsibilities.

We worked together on the Junior-Senior banquet during our Junior year, and the Halloween Carnival was a highlight of the fall of our Senior year. We have had part in Glee Club Concerts, Public Speaking Contests, Chapel Programs, radio broadcasts, and the Senior Play. Now, we share the most important of all--Graduation. We shall always treasure our Year Book, as each time, in years to come, when we examine its pages, happy memories will come to mind.

JUNIORS

THE JUNIOR CLASS

As school opened this year, one hundred and ten "upper classmen" waited in suspense to see whose homeroom they would be in. After three groups had been organized into Junior homerooms, an election was held that selected Eleanor Stewart, Treasurer, Ben Williams as President, Slade Crumpton as Vice-President, Shirley Owens the Secretary, and Connie Gravitte as Sergeant-at-Arms.

At Christmas, Santa came to see all the Juniors. They held a party in the library and Santa made a personal appearance. A good time was had by all.

The annual "Queen of Hearts" program each year is sponsored by the Junior Class. They also sell magazines to raise money. This year a portable radio and wrist watch were given as prizes. The Juniors give the Seniors a banquet each year, which is quite a gala affair.

To all "under Juniors", if you be good, maybe someday you too can be a mighty Junior!

Best of Luck always, to a very sweet girl.

Dear Seniors and Juniors,

How nice it is to be a part of your 1950 Book--The Rocket! We appreciate your interest in us very much.

Up and down the halls, we have passed and repassed you, and in this way learned to know your faces and names. Several of you have been taught by some of our teachers and they join with us in wishing you much happiness and success through the years to come.

To tell you all we have done and expect to do during this school term would take up too much valuable space. But we would like to add a few activities and pleasures we have enjoyed.

Our rooms are like clubs. We do things together in them and have fun the same way. Of course work comes before play. Various tests to determine Spelling and Reading skills were given and remedial work is skill in the individual boy or girl.

Athletic organizations in different rooms have played many match games. Several trips have been planned and enjoyed, also radio programs have been broadcasted.

Our Contributions to the March of Dimes drive was exceedingly creditable and as far as The Queen of Hearts contest, the eighth grades "went all the way for you."

Springtime brings ball and nine-ball marbles and less study. You all are not to old to remember how it is. Our best to you always.

Coach

Mr. Walter Rogers;

FOOTBALL

The season of 1949 proved to be a very successful one for the Roxboro "Rockets." Faced with its hardest schedule in several years, the football team played heroically against the tough opposition suffering only one defeat while winning ten. It was runner-up to Henderson in the North Central Conference.

At the beginning of the season, Coach Walter Rogers had the task of molding a team from a group of boys composed of returning members of a mediocre team of the year before and the inexperienced members of the junior varsity. Skillfully he shifted his formation from single-wing to the"T" and converted Connie Gravitte, a swivel-hipped half-back into a first-class quarterback. Now the Rockets were prepared to oppose the other schools.

Roxboro defeated its first opponent, Graham, with great ease. Then the team followed with a victory over Washington. With two victories, Roxboro roared into Henderson, enthusastic and hopeful for another win. However, Henderson, led by the brilliant Billy Williams, an All-State performer, turned back Roxboro without any difficulty.

Humiliated by this stinging defeat, Roxboro received ample revenge against its next opponent, Hillsboro. Then the team ran roughshod over the remaining foes: Oxford Orphanage, Methodist Orphanage, Chowan, Durham County, Chapel Hill, South Boston, and Oxford.

The reason behind Roxboro's victorious season was not because they had a great team, but was the unison of the hard-driving backfield, and a light, but scrappy line. The team was led by Co-Captains, David Barrett and Connie Gravitte, ably backed up by such players as Bobby Gentry, Coy Oakley, Carlos Womack, Harold Hatcher, Bobby Buchanan, Bill Michie, Latney Pittard, Tommy Barnette, W. T. Adcock, Bobby Talbott, and many others.

Roxboro was truly proud of this fine record and held a banquet in honor of the team. This showed their appreciation toward the team, and showed that they would be behind the players in the future.

Following is a box score by Roxboro's splendid record;

Roxboro 31, Graham 0
Roxboro 20, Washington 13
Roxboro 21, Henderson 48
Roxboro 40, Hillsboro 0
Roxboro 33, Oxford Orphanage 0

THE BASKETBALL TEAM

THE MONOGRAM CLUB

BASKETBALL

This past season the Roxboro High basketball team had their most successful season in years. At the beginning of the season, every team in the North Central Conference was out to defeat the Rockets; but at the end of the season we find Roxboro at the top of the conference, having lost only one game to Oxford High. The Rockets took two games from Hillsboro, Henderson, Chapel Hill, Methodist Orphanage, and Durham county while splitting two with Oxford. The Rockets' other loss came at the hands of the South Boston five, whom they defeated twice during the season.

This fine record enabled Roxboro to compete in the State Class "A" tournament played in Wilson and at Duke. The other teams in the tournament were Oxford, Kinston, and Washington.

The Rockets were led this season by "Skippy" Winstead, who gained recognition as one of the top players in the state. Although Winstead was the outstanding player, the Rockets still gained recognition as being one of the best-balanced ball clubs in the state. The other members of the strong Roxboro club were guards Bobby Gentry, Henry Walker, Connie Gravitte, and Kirk Kynoch; forwards Carlos Womack, W. T. Adcock, Harold Hatcher, and Charles Hall; and centers Leon Long and Bill Bradsher. The team was greatly handicapped, however, without a gym, but many fans followed it to all the games.

Of course no team can have as good a season as Roxboro, unless they have a fine coach. Mr. Rogers, our efficient coach, worked day in and day out to make this year's team the greatest ever at Roxboro High.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club is an organization within the school made up entirely of boys who have participated in some type of sports. The purpose of this club is to organize the boys as a group so that they might take a part in the school program.

For the past several years, the Monogram Club has aided the Student Council in bringing across their program. This was one of the greatest undertaking of the club in many years.

The officers this year are as follows: President-Latney Pittard, Vice-President-Coy Oakley, Secretary and Treasurer-Hugh Beam. Behind the leadership of these officers, the Monogram Club has had a very progressive year. To top off this year, the club have a dance for the Tri-Hi-Y Club, a girls' organization, at which time they crowned the "Queen of the Monogram Club."

BAND

This year the Roxboro High School Band acquired a new director, Mr. Robert *T Hodgkinson. Under his capable direction, the band has shown a marked improvement since school started in the fall.

The band entertained the spectators during half-time at the home football games, and journeyed to Hillsboro and Oxford Orphanage to participate in the programs there. It also has given concerts at Longhurst and Central School.

Last fall, the band traveled to Durham to march in the annual parade planned for the Tobacco Festival. They took part in the program before the Duke-Richmond football game on Duke Band Day.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Begun in 1948, student government has thus far proved to be a great help to Roxboro High. At the end of the school year 1949, the election for 1949-50 officers was started and completed. The campaign managers presented to the assembly, during a very intellectual program, the faithfulness, the ableness, and the capability of each nominee. The following officers were elected: President, Harold Hatcher; Vice-President, Bill Michie; Secretary, Jean Gentry; Treasurer, Johnny Womack; and Sergeant-at-arms, Ben Williams. These officers were installed at the beginning of this school year by the principal.

Some of the projects that have come from the student government this year are: a monitor system, shich is a great help to the teachers; a "better, cleaner school" in general feeling now prevails since the room attractiveness contest; seven committees were organized to take care of the general needs of the school, as the Hall Committee: these persons worked out a plan whereas all of the halls in the school would be cleaned each week by specified homerooms; a better assembly behavior plan has been set up; The Student Government Honor Roll has increased the grades of the students; these and many other projects are being worked on every day.

This year attractive pins have been ordered for all of the members with suitable guards for the officers' pins.

As a whole the school has learned how to work together more democratically and student government work continues to grow at R. H. S.

THE ENGLISH HONOR SOCIETY

The English Honor Society is an organization which has proved to be very helpful in the teaching of English. With so many students it is impossible for the teacher to devote very much of her time to teaching pupils to express themselves clearly and correctly in composition.

The Honor Society is made up of superior students who have been recommended by the teachers because of their proficiency in English. These students serve as theme readers for the teachers.

At the end of each grading period new members may be admitted, which serves as an incentive to those who are capable of attaining membership to work harder in order to be eligible. At the present we have seventeen members.

In order to make the Honor Society attractive to prospective members, the school presents a gold pin to each student who attains membership.

THE PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS

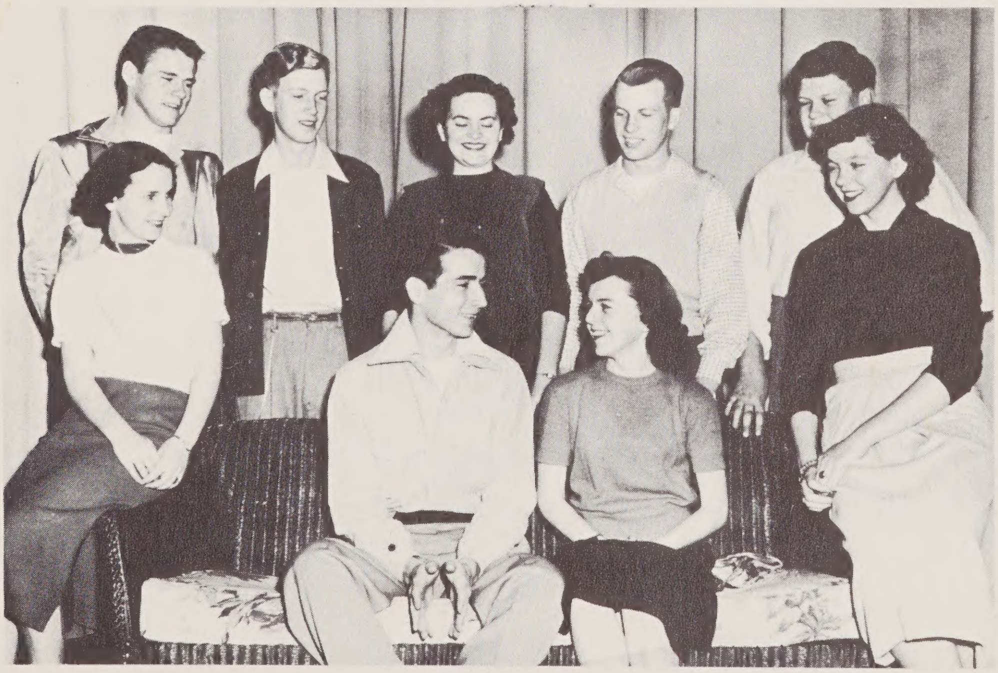
This year the Public Speaking Class is looking forward to its most successful year. Each succeeding year has brought wider recognition to this class and their instructor, Mrs. A. F. Nichols. Last year it had its supreme triumph when the negative debating team, chosen from the Public Speaking Class, won the Aycock Memorial Cup, symbolic of the State Debating Championship. Should the debating team win the state championship this year the Roxboro High School would have permanent possession of the cup.

Members of the Public Speaking Class are planning to enter various oratorical contests this year. Jack Featherston, the remaining member of last year's championship debating team, was eliminated in the quarter-finals of the State Safety Contest. Other contests yet to come include the American Legion, Soil Conservation, and the Debate. We sincerely hope that in the coming years the Public Speaking Class will continue to bring honors to Roxboro High School.

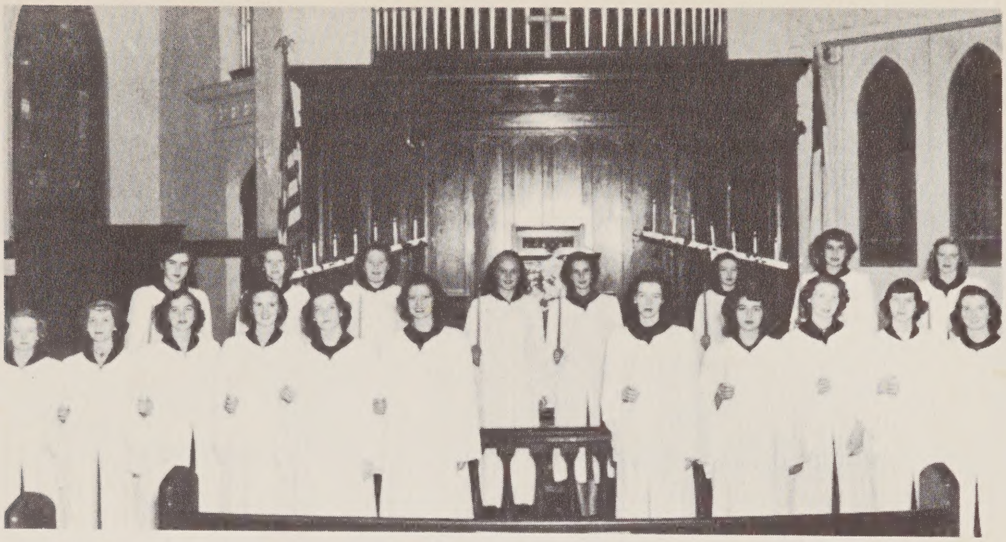
Dramatics Class

Dramatics is a regularly scheduled subject at R. H. S. It meets every day during the week, and is open only to seniors.

In the course the students study the history of drama and are required to read a large number of plays. In addition to two one acts plays presented in chapel, the dramatics class presented "Peg O' My Heart" as the Senior play.



Cast of "Peg O' My Heart"



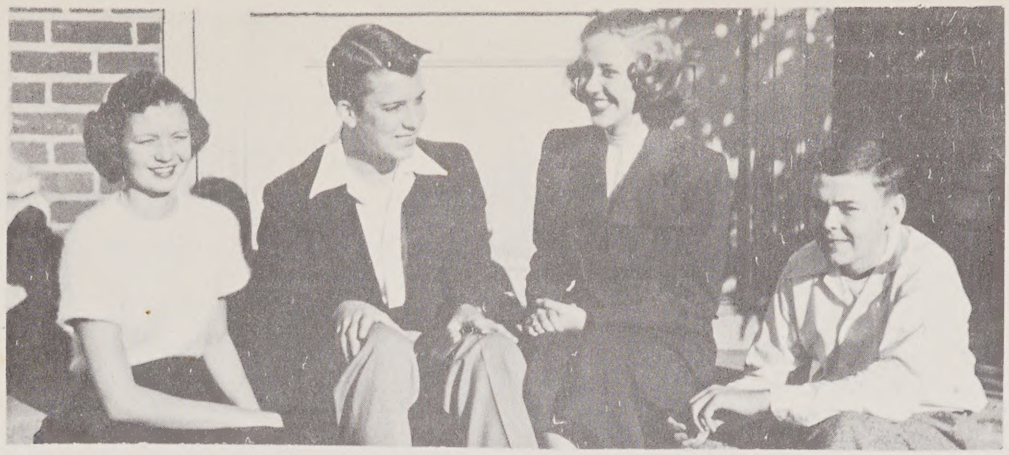
Faith Brooks, President; Susie Barbee, Vice-President; Betty Warren, Secretary; Peggy Conrad, Treasurer; Sylvia Bradsher Sgt.-at-Arms; and Sally Umstead, Chaplain.

THE TRI-HI-Y

The Tri-Hi-Y is a christian organization composed of girls possessing a high scholastic average and a good moral character. Its purpose is to create within the girls a wholesome mind so that they might help to make the community and the school better places in which to live and learn.

Regular meetings two weeks apart are held in the homes of the members. The business session, an interesting program, an a period of recreation are the constituents of a meeting. For each meeting the program committee prepares an interesting and informative program.

Miss Hazel Carver, the faculty advisor, has helped the group carry out many helpful projects. A project for each month during the school year, that would benefit the school, was the aim of the group at the beginning of the year. Thus far the group, under the leadership of the president, Faith Brooks has found success in all undertakings. The first thing that the group accomplished was decorating the goal posts in the team colors at each home football game. There are nine different churches in this community; one Sunday out of each school month, the Tri-Hi-Y has attended church together. Faith Brooks, Joy Ann Hamlin, and Peggy Conrad attended the Tri-Hi-Y conference at Kannapolis. These representatives came back with helpful suggestions and a great deal of sound thinking. Two dances have been given in honor of the Monogram boys and the Tri-Hi-Y girls presented a ballet as one event in the Queen of Hearts program.



ART CLUB OFFICERS

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA CLUB

THE CHEERLEADERS

ART CLUB

At the beginning of last year Mrs. Irene Street and some of the students worked together and organized an "Art Club" in an effort to promote interest in art at Roxboro High School.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Irene Street and Mrs. Della Crowell, the Art Club was reorganized again this year and the following officers were elected: President, Jack Wagstaff: Vice-President, Bobby Burns: Secretary, Ann Monk: and Treasurer, Ellen Clayton.

The work of the club consists of each member drawing a poster monthly. These posters are sold to the teachers and the money made is used to buy equipment needed by the club.

We, the student body of Roxboro High School, are very proud of our Art Club and would like to have it continued in future years.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA CLUB

The F.H.A. Club was organized in our school three years ago. Girls who are now taking Home Economics or who have taken it are eligible to join the club. One purpose of it is to teach and improve teen-age girls' knowledge of better homemakers.

We attend the District and State meetings held each year. A certain percentage of our members attend the F.H.A. Camp at White Lake, N. C., during the summer for a week.

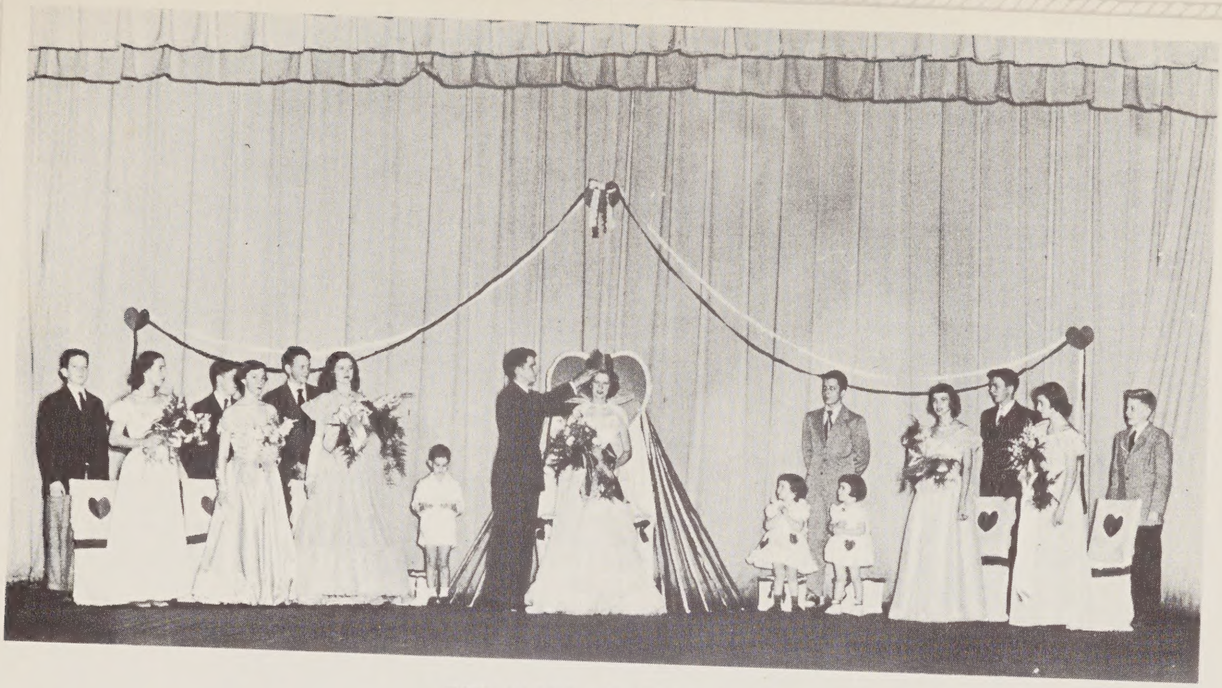
The officers of our club this year are:

President	Jackie Hall
Vice-President	Jane Cobb Burns
Secretary and Treasury	Betty Gray Wilson
Reporter	Eva Doris Day

THE CHEERLEADERS

Yea team! Does that bring to mind some athletic game? Everyone wants to "holler" for their team, in this case the "Rockets", and all they need is someone to lead them all in the same yell. That is the job of the cheerleaders, Pep rallies are conducted by the players, coach, and cheerleaders.

This year at Roxboro High School, Sidney O'Briant was the head cheerleader, with Patsy Gentry as his assistant. The other "Screamers" were: Jeannette Hall, Dan Cozart, Alfred Snipes, Sally Umstead, Rachel Brooks, Carolyn Featherston, and Eleanor Stewart.



THE QUEEN OF HEARTS

On February 14, 1950, the Junior Class sponsored the Annual Queen of Hearts program. Members of the court were as follows: The Queen, Joy Ann Hamlin, with Jack Featherston; Maid of Honor, Mary Lee Whitfield with Ben Williams; Maids in waiting, Myrtle Brandon with Johnny Foote; Mary Alyce Chicholm with Bobby Taylor; Joanne Turner with Bill Mewborne; and Eva Jean Oakley with James Woody.

Train bearers were Betsy Burns and Sara Ann Hester. Riley Oakley Jr. was the crown bearer.

SENIOR HOUSEPARTY

CLASS PROPHECY

Now in 1960 we feel old age creeping up on us as we enter the never-forgotten doors of Roxboro High School. We no longer roam the still-familiar halls that we once passed in as carefree students. Today is the long and eagerly awaited reunion of the class of 1950.

As we walk down the halls we notice what resembles a pretzel, but on coming closer we see that it is Faith Brooks who is now a professional drum majorette. We hear that W. T. Adcock finally got out from behind the eight ball and now has a full time job racking balls at the pool room. We feel a cold draft and as we turn the corner, we are not surprised to see by an open window, the famous explorer, Harold Hatcher, who has just returned from an expedition to Antarctica. He tells us that Flemmie Ray Long owns some green houses and is raising rare varieties of flowers.
